

TAWID

This book contains a documented inventory of distinct cultural assets within the locality of Sagada, Mountain Province in the Cordillera Region of Northern Philippines. It holds a list of Sagada's tangible and intangible cultural heritage that would help readers develop a mental image to better understand the community and its people.

The book is titled Tawid -- a word in the local language that roughly translates to 'inheritance' or 'heritage' -- and offers its readers descriptions of a range of different aspects in the iSagada culture which were passed down from earlier generations; from beliefs and customs, social values and knowledge, to material things -- all of which the indigenous people of this town want to conserve.

The research and publication of Tawid was commissioned by the Local Government Unit of Sagada in partnership with the National Commission on Culture and the Arts (NCCA) and the Tourism Promotions Board (TPB) of the Republic of the Philippines.

All information and documentation within this book were sourced and written by people in Sagada from 2018 to 2023.
